1. Purpose

The primary objective of MTX Group, Inc.'s termination policy is to facilitate the departure of employees, whether voluntary, involuntary, or due to unfortunate circumstances like death, with utmost professionalism and efficiency, minimizing any disruptions to the workplace environment.

2. At-Will Employment

Employment with MTX Group, Inc. is at will. This means that an employee may resign at any time, for any reason, and that MTX Group Inc. may terminate an employee with or without cause, and with or without notice, at any time. Nothing in this policy shall be interpreted to conflict with or to eliminate or modify in any way the employment-at-will status of MTX Group, Inc. employees.

3. Voluntary Terminations

Voluntary termination of employment occurs when an employee submits a written or verbal notice of resignation, including intent to retire, to his or her manager or when an employee is absent from work for three consecutive workdays and fails to contact his or her Reporting Manager (job abandonment).

Procedures

- Employees are requested to provide a minimum of four weeks' notice of their intention to separate employment. The employee should provide a written resignation notification to his or her Reporting Manager, Director (Delivery), VP (Delivery) and Human Resources.
- Upon receipt of an employee's resignation, the Reporting Manager will notify the Human Resources (HR) department by sending a copy of the resignation letter and any other pertinent information (e.g., employee's reason for leaving, and last day of work).
- The HR department will coordinate the employee's departure from the company. This process will include the employee's returning all company property, a review of the employee's post-termination benefits status, and the employee's completion of an exit interview.
- HR will terminate the employee's Google Account access and Salesforce user on the employee's final day of employment.

4. Involuntary Terminations

An involuntary termination of employment, including a layoff of over 30 days, is a management-initiated dismissal with or without cause.

Procedures

- Before any decision is made to terminate an employee involuntarily, the employee's Reporting Manager, Director and VP conduct a thorough review of the situation in consultation with HR and legal if required. This review may involve gathering relevant information, documenting performance or conduct issues, and considering potential alternatives to termination. If it is determined that termination is necessary, the decision is typically made by the Directors and VPs for the delivery teams with input from the Reporting Managers. For Non-Delivery teams the decision is made by the Reporting Managers in consultation with their directors and VPs and the employee is notified accordingly.

- During the review, the responsible party - such as the Reporting Manager or any other involved leader should come prepared with a document outlining the reason(s) for termination.
- Human Resources will be responsible for reviewing the circumstances and determining if the discharge is warranted. If Human Resources recommends discharge, the employee's Reporting Manager and an HR representative will notify the employee via phone conference.
- During the call, the employee will be briefed on the following points:
 - a. Payment details: final paycheck timing; termination of UKG Pro access.
 - b. Insurance continuation (if applicable)
 - c. 401K deactivation (if applicable)
 - d. Asset return
 - e. Access Card Return (if applicable)
 - f. Access shutdown
 - g. The date of their final day of employment with MTX Group, Inc
- HR will draft and send a Separation Letter to the employee. This letter will be emailed to the employee's MTX email address and their personal email address on file in Salesforce.
- HR will terminate the employee's Google Account access and Salesforce user immediately following the termination call.

5. Death of an Employee

A termination due to the death of an employee will be made effective as of the date of death.

Procedures

- Upon receiving notification of the death of an employee, the employee's Reporting Manager should immediately notify HR.
- The benefits administrator will process all appropriate beneficiary payments from the various benefits plans.
- The employee's Reporting Manager should ensure that the payroll office receives the deceased employee's timecard.

6. Final Pay

An employee who resigns or is discharged will be paid through the last day of work, less outstanding loans, advances, or other agreements the employee may have with the company, in accordance with state law requirements. In cases of an employee's death, the final payment due to that employee will be paid to the deceased employee's estate or as otherwise required under state law.

7. Health Insurance

Medical, dental, and vision insurance coverage terminates on the last day of the month the employee separates employment or is terminated. An employee will be required to pay his or her share of insurance premiums through the end of the month. Information about COBRA continuation coverage will be provided.

8. Return of Property

Employees must return all company property at the time of separation, including keys, and laptops. Failure to return company assets may result in deductions from the employee's final paycheck where state law allows. In some circumstances, MTX Group, Inc. may pursue criminal charges for failure to return company property.

9. Exit Interview

The HR department will contact an employee who voluntarily resigns to schedule an exit interview on or about the employee's last day of work.

10. Eligibility for Rehire

Employees who leave MTX Group, Inc. in good standing with proper notice may be considered for rehire. Former employees must follow the normal application and hiring processes and must meet all minimum qualifications and requirements of the position, including any required qualifying exam. Rehired employees will not retain the previous tenure when calculating longevity, leave accruals, or any other benefits unless required by law.

Employees who are involuntarily terminated by MTX Group, Inc. for cause or who resign in lieu of termination are ineligible for rehire. In addition, employees who resign without providing adequate notice or who abandon their job will not be considered for rehire.
